Fitch Ratings - Chicago - 15 Jul 2026: Fitch Ratings has affirmed Pacific LifeCorp's (PLC) Long-Term Issuer Default Rating (IDR) at 'A' and its senior unsecured debt at 'A-'. Fitch has also affirmed the Long-Term Insurer Financial Strength (IFS) ratings of PLC's insurance operating subsidiaries, including Pacific Life Insurance Company (PLIC), at 'AA-'. The Rating Outlook is Stable.

The affirmation of the ratings reflects the group's favorable company profile, very strong capital position, strong financial performance and moderate investment risk.

Key Rating Drivers

Favorable Company Profile: PLC is a leading provider of individual life insurance and retirement savings products in the U.S. It maintains a strong competitive position within the affluent market and benefits from an extensive distribution network and product offerings. PLC consistently ranks as a top 10 writer of individual life insurance. PLC's global life reinsurance and institutional products continue to expand. In 2023, it launched its workplace benefits business, which is expected to exhibit top-line growth, but not be a meaningful earnings contributor over the near to intermediate term.

Very Strong Capital Position: Fitch considers PLC's capitalization to be very strong based on a Prism capital model score of 'Very Strong' at YE 2024 and is expected to remain 'Very Strong' at YE 2025. This assessment is supported by an NAIC risk-based capital ratio of 536% at its core operating subsidiary, Pacific Life Insurance Company (PLIC), and an increase in PLIC's total adjusted capital (TAC) to $17.5 billion. PLC's financial leverage ratio increased to 20% due to surplus notes issuance in 3Q25 and remains in line with Fitch's expectations.

Strong Financial Performance: PLC's financial performance continues to be strong on a GAAP basis. In 2025, Pacific Mutual Holding Company's (PMHC) operating ROE was about 9%. This is consistent with the prior year. However, operating performance has been weaker on a statutory basis due to growth. Results continue to reflect strong investment performance and the benefits of the higher interest rate environment and strong life and annuity sales.

Moderate Investment Risk: Fitch views the overall quality of PLC's investment portfolio as strong. The company maintains an above-average exposure to assets that Fitch considers risky. However, performance has been strong, and PLC reported minimal impairments in 2025. PLC also maintains material exposure to commercial mortgage loans and has been adding significant commercial and residential mortgages to its portfolio. Fitch believes the company has substantial headroom for losses before capital or ratings would be materially affected.

Strong Coverage: PLC has strong debt service capabilities. Coverage remained steady around 11x at YE 2025 and is expected to remain near this level. The interest coverage ratio is strong for the current rating level. In addition to the strong coverage ratio at the operating company, the holding company targets a 2x coverage. PLIC has $918 million in dividend capacity for 2026.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

- Deterioration in the Prism capital model score below 'Very Strong';
- A financial leverage ratio sustained at or above 23%;
- Significant earnings and capital volatility, such as a 10% or more drop in TAC;
- The short-term ratings could be downgraded if the corresponding long-term ratings are downgraded. The short-term ratings could also be downgraded if PLIC's short-term financial flexibility or short-term asset/liability and liquidity management score below 'aa'.

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

- A material change in the business risk profile that indicates a risk appetite lower than the life insurance sector as a whole;
- Return on equity (ROE) above 10% and a GAAP-based fixed-charge coverage ratio maintained at or above 10x;
- Financial leverage of 15% or less.

ESG Considerations

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit-neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision. In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed. Fitch Ratings makes routine, commonly-accepted adjustments to reported financial data in accordance with the relevant criteria and/or industry standards to provide financial metric consistency for entities in the same sector or asset class.

The complete span of best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings for all rating categories ranges from 'AAA' to 'D'. Fitch also provides information on best-case rating upgrade scenarios and worst-case rating downgrade scenarios (defined as the 99th percentile of rating transitions, measured in each direction) for international credit ratings, based on historical performance. A simple average across asset classes presents best-case upgrades of 4 notches and worst-case downgrades of 8 notches at the 99th percentile.
