The cost of the life insurance and benefits provided through the policy is deducted monthly, which include an Administrative Charge, Asset Charge, Coverage Charge, Cost of Insurance Charge, and any applicable rider charges. Additionally, a premium load is deducted from each premium payment. To understand how the policy charges will affect your policy's cash value, request a personalized illustration that includes the Summary of Policy Charges & Credits Report. Also, your policy is subject to the expenses of the underlying variable investment options.

¹For federal income tax purposes, life insurance death benefits generally pay income tax-free to beneficiaries pursuant to IRC Sec. 101(a)(1). In certain situations, however, life insurance death benefits may be partially or wholly taxable. Situations include, but are not limited to: the transfer of a life insurance policy for valuable consideration unless the transfer qualifies for an exception under IRC Sec. 101(a)(2)(i.e. the transfer-for-value rule); arrangements that lack an insurable interest based on state law; and an employer-owned policy unless the policy qualifies for an exception under IRC Sec. 101(j).

²The optional Flexible Duration No-Lapse Guarantee Rider (Form series R17FNL, S18FNL, varies based on state of policy issue) is available only at policy issue for additional cost. For the rider's guarantee to remain in place, the policyowner must not request an unscheduled increase in face amount and must remain 100% allocated among any of the Fixed Options, and the other Allowable Investment Options specified in the prospectus. The no-lapse guarantee depending on how you structure your policy, has a maximum duration of up to the insured's lifetime, subject to certain limits. If your net no-lapse guarantee value is zero, the no-lapse feature terminates. If the no-lapse feature terminates, additional premiums would be required to resume the no-lapse guarantee. If policy performance is such that your policy is being maintained solely by the no-lapse guarantee, your policy will not build cash value. This rider is subject to availability, restrictions, and limitations. When considering a rider, request a policy illustration from your life insurance producer to see the rider's impact on your policy's values.

³Asset allocation is the process of distributing a fund's investments among varying asset classes of investments (e.g., equity and debt). It does not guarantee diversification, assure profit, or protect against loss.

Any policy withdrawals, loans and loan interest will reduce policy values and may reduce benefits.

Every variable investment option has some degree of risk depending on what it invests in and what strategies it uses. While all variable investment options are subject to market risk, some investment options may be subject to greater volatility than others. The variable investment options are not FDIC insured or guaranteed.

Before investing you should talk to your financial professional and carefully read the applicable product and fund prospectuses for the risks, charges, and expenses associated with the variable investment options.

The Freedom to Choose How You Will Use Pacific Select Harbor VUL

Variable universal life insurance from Pacific Life protects your family’s financial future and can be used as a potential supplemental financial resource for you or your business.

Supplement Your Income	For high income earners, saving for retirement can be a challenge due to limitations on contributions to qualified retirement plans. You can add a tax-diversified asset to your portfolio with Pacific Select Harbor VUL. The policy’s death benefit will provide financial protection for your policy’s beneficiaries, while its cash value can help you build a potential source of supplemental income.
Three Potential Tax Advantages	Pacific Select Harbor VUL provides three potential tax advantages which can benefit you and your family or business, today and tomorrow. <ul style="list-style-type: none">1 Tax-free⁴ death benefit2 Tax-deferred cash value growth potential3 Tax-free⁵ supplemental income potential
Business Benefits	If you are a business owner, how can you help your business stand out in attracting top talent? One way may be through an executive bonus arrangement, in which your business pays taxable bonuses to an executive in the form of premium payments for a life insurance policy. The executive will receive the potentially lifelong benefit of cash value life insurance in addition to death benefit protection. Meanwhile, the bonused premiums are generally tax deductible as a business expense for the company.⁶

⁴For federal income tax purposes, life insurance death benefits generally pay income tax-free to beneficiaries pursuant to IRC Sec. 101(a)(1). In certain situations, however, life insurance death benefits may be partially or wholly taxable. Situations include, but are not limited to: the transfer of a life insurance policy for valuable consideration unless the transfer qualifies for an exception under IRC Sec. 101(a)(2)(i.e. the transfer-for-value rule); arrangements that lack an insurable interest based on state law; and an employer-owned policy unless the policy qualifies for an exception under IRC Sec. 101(j).

⁵For federal income tax purposes, tax-free income assumes, among other things: (1) withdrawals do not exceed tax basis (generally, premiums paid less prior withdrawals); (2) policy remains in force until death (any outstanding policy debt at time of lapse or surrender that exceeds the tax basis will be subject to tax); (3) withdrawals taken during the first 15 policy years do not cause, occur at the time of, or during the two years prior to, any reduction in benefits; and (4) the policy does not become a modified endowment contract. See IRC Sec. 72, 7702(f)(7)(B), 7702A. Any policy withdrawals, loans, and loan interest will reduce policy values and may reduce benefits.

⁶The deductibility of the bonus is subject to the reasonable compensation limits established by IRC Sec. 162(a).
